The eyes are always in sympathy with the body, and afford an excellent index of its condition. When the eyes become weak, and the lids inflamed and sore, it is an evidence that the system has become disordered by Scrofuls, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best known remedy.

Scrofula, which produced a painful in-flammation in my eyes, caused me much suffering for a number of years. By the advice of a physician I commenced taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using this medicine a short time I was completely

My daughter, ten years old, was afflicted with Scrofulous Sore Eyes. During the last two years she never saw light of any kind. Physicians of the highest standing exerted their skill, but with no permanent success. On the recommendation of a friend I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which my daughter commenced taking. Before she had used the third bottle her sight was restored, and she can now look steadily at a brilliant light without pain. Her cure is complete.—W. E. Sutherland, Evangelist, Shelby City, Ky.

Frightful Accident on the Atlantic & Paoific Ealtroad.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., May 9.—Owing to a serious accident Wadnesday on the Atlantic & Pacific road, forty miles east of Duggett's Station, have just reached here. An east-bound passenger train, three hours behind time, rushing across the desert at the rate of forty miles an hour, ran into an arroya, the bridge over which had been burned. Leaving the rails, the engine went over, but the jar threw the firman out of the cab. The tender wont through into the shallow arroya, forming a barricade against which the other cars ran with terrific force. The mait car turned completely around, standing across the track. The baggage and express cars were thrown twenty feet from the track, to the right, and turned over. Two passonger cars were deraited. Two Puliman cars remained on the track.

A scene of consternation followed, no one believing the passengers in the overturned cars would escape death.

The following is a list of the injured: Charles Smith, fireman; picked up unconscious. His leg was broken, his spine injured and he was hurt internally. He is not expected to recover.

His manner of their consisted in making false returns of the stock used, and disposing of the surplus. He was well paid, was his own master in the shop, and enjoyed the full confidence of his employers. When arrested he had thirteen ounces of gold upon him just as it comes from the crucible. His peculations are thought to amount to $5,000, and his breach of trust has no parallel in the history of the jewelry trade.

A NOVEL OCEAN RACE.

The Seminole and Charmer to Sall a Race Around the Horn.

Thousands of Dollars Wagered on the Result -- The Ships and Their

Naw York, May 8.—An ocean race col proportions that will dwarf that between the Dauntless and the Coronet is the latest event that is exciting the nautical world. It is nothing less than a race between two clipper ships from this port around Cape Horn to San Francisco. These vessels are the half clipper ship Seminole of Sutton's California Dispatch line now lying at pier No. 19, East River, and the clipper Charmer of the New York and California line, now lying at pier No. and California line, now lying at pier No. 14 at the foot of Wali street. Several thousand dollars have already been thousand dollars have already been wagered on the race and many more will be up when the fact that there is to be a race is generally known. Both vessels have fast records. On South street the Seminole is generally regarded as the fastest ship now in the California service and next to the fastest that ever doubled Cape Horn, the Davy Crockett, which reached the Golden Gate in eighty-four days after leaving New York, having the top record. The Seminole also has the record of having beaten the Charmer thirty days in a former trip to San Francisco, making that trip in to Ban Francisco, making U one original feature. The former master of the Seminole, Captain Holmes, when of the Seminole, Captain Homos, the sake the Charmer, will command the latter, while his former mate, Captain Hatch, will sail the Seminole. The vessels will leave this port on Tuesday Their crews have not yet been shipped, and as the owners and captains are anxious to have picked men, they will not all be se-lected before Monday. The affair has teen kept very quiet, and very few hangers on of South street have heard of it. In the offices of the companies all knowledge of it is disclaimed. The Charmer's carge, which consists of rail-road iron and merchandise, was nearly road iron and merchandise, was nearly all shipped when a roporter went aboard of her to-day. The ship is certainly a beaucy, being long and low, with tall, stender masts, the very model of a first-class clipper ship. The stevedores at the pior said she would be all ready to sail on Tuesday. Several piers above her rival, the Seminole, lay with her long, sharp jib boom reaching nearly into the win lows of the reaching nearly into the winlows of the warehouses across the street. A Semi-nole Indian in war-paint, with tomahawk and scalping-knife, decorated the front of the vessel as a figure-head, while on her stern was an American cagle with out-spread wings. She is a half clipper, and a knot of old salts were upon the pier admiring her. She is slightly smader than the Charmer, which is of 1,800 tons bur-den, while the Seminole is not more than 1,500. Her masts, which are of Oregon pine, are so reely so tall as those of the Charmer, but they are much larger. An old seaman, with a Yankee twang to his voice, told the reporter that from a sailor's standpoint she is a perfect model sailor's standpoint she is a perfect model of what a ship should be. "The Charmer is a nighty slick boat," he said, "but I recken ese how she hain't got no business to race with the Seminole. Old Bill Mal-lory built the Seminole up in Mystic, Conn. more'n twenty years are Conn., more'n twenty years ago, and there wan't no flies on Mallory ese a ship builder. It was him built the Davy Crock-ett, an' she was the fastest clipper affoat." This seemed about the general opinion along South street. The ships will carry about fifteen men before the mast, and twenty-five in all. The captains are both old seamen. Captain Holmes, who will be the Chemmen was for years cantain sail the Charmer, was for years captain of the Seminole. This is his last trip, as of the Seminole. This is his last trip, as he will settle down in California upon reaching there, and he would naturally like to top off his career by winning the race. Captain Hatch was formerly first mate of the Seminole, but latterly he has occupied the same position on the steamship Colorado, of the Mallory line. This being his first trip as captain, he, the mould like to win. The livelinst kind This being his first trip as captain, ac, too, would like to win. The liveliest kind of a race may, therefore, be looked for, and as it is more than eight thousand miles, cood seamanship may have almost as much to do with the result as the qualities of the ships. The ship that first enters the Goldon Gate will win a pile of money for some one. money for some one.

From six hundred to one thousand visitors will be in the city and they come representing the best workers in the state and will be overflowing with suggestions on and about the best methode as to christian work Every christian who is or expects to be worker and who wants to be abreast of the age in which he lives cannot afford to mass the sessions of this convention Many workers will pay from ten to fifty dollars for the privilege of attending, besides giving their time. The convention is right at our door and the christian people of Decatur will have a grand opportunity, and the question arises, Hoven we get the best good out of it?

A christian worker has rightly said "People usually get out of a convention what they put into it." Decatur will have an opportunity to put much into the convention in the way of entertain-ment of the delegates and by making every stranger and visitor to our city this week to feel at home.

There is no better way to beom the city that Miss Laura Briggs, an accomplished than to show the class of people who will be among us this week that we are a

In regard to entertainment of delegates having been one. The delegates are not coming here for entertainment, they are coming here for work—practical christian work—with a desire to learn better methods, and while they will enjoy hospitality they will enjoy it more if we who admit them to our homes will see to it that we "be not cumbered with many things," but that we receive them as our own family and attend every session of the convention. If we would get the greatest good of the convention too, we cannot afford to leave our lead pencil and note-book at home, but make notes such as will help us in our work in the days to come.

The Gas Question

Query-What position should the council and public assume in reference to the proposition submitted by the gas company. By a decision of the Supreme court the ordinance governing the company has been construed strictly to mean gas at $150 per m It was not for the court to consider whether the cities of Springfield and Decatur had changed relatively, nor whether the company could supply gas at $150 The fact that the consumption at Springfield had mereased to 60 000,000 ft per annum, while at Decatur it was but 10,000,000 ft. could not properly be considered. The sole question was the legal interpreta tion of the technical langu in the ordinance The question is presented to the council and public, however, is radically different. The legal construction of the ordinance is conceded. The company accepts the construction and now pre sents the proposition, that with the present output, gas cannot be furmshed at $1,50 and asks a modification of the or dinance fixing a scale of prices accord ing to consumption, so that when the amount consumed reaches 20,000 000 ft the rate shall be $$150~{

A strepuous effort is made to preclude consideration of the proposition, and to arbitrarily hold the gas company to the results of the court decision, disastrons though they be but rather demand the greater cure If the investigation shows that the company has falsified, public opinion will condemn and hold it to the old ordinance If, however a fair investigation evidences that the company is correct in its statement, public opinion demands that the ordinance be amended and a fair scale of prices be fixed The success of the community is re flected in the success of its citizens and individual industries Decatur seeks to foster and build up, not to orush out A Board of Trade has been organized, and our cauzens have responded liberally, the object being to present our advantages and invite foreign capital to invest and new industries to locate in our midst. Certainly the editorials in the Heiald will not be adopted as "campaign literature" or sent to factories abroad as an inducement to their coming. Decatur must and will be just. The government is feeding the Indians, thus rendering them even more worthless and useless than in their indigenous condition, while the negro is making an attempt to feed himself. There is no need of any solicitude for John Chinaman's welfare; he knows pretty well how to look out for number one, except when the "Melican man be too damnoe fleshee." The Chinese question is one put to be sneezed at. one not to be succeed at.

The borrors of the warfare so long maintained by a band of Apaches under Natchez, Mangus and Geronimo, and the expensive Mangus and Geronimo, and the expensive campaign which resulted in their capture, are matters of recent history. For a time the war department was puzzled to know just what to do with them, whether to convert them into good Indians by shooting them, or to return them to the reservation with a risk of their breaking out again in a new spot. Happy thought, they were taken to Florida for their health. A job lot of had ones, seventeen in number, was picked out, and aventeen in number, was picked o sont to Fort Pickens, at Pensacola, while the rest of the band, 447 in all, bucks, squaws rust of the band, 447 in all, bucks, squaws and children, was taken to Fort Marion, at St. Augustine. Forty-four children were afterward sent to the Carlisle school. The select party at Fort Pickens includes Chiefs Natchez and Mingus and medicine man Geronimo, pronounced Her-on-imo, Spanish for Jerone. The former are the hereditary bists, the latter only so by the appointmen of an agent, as was the case with folding Bull, the medicine chieftain of the Sioux. Many of the depredations committed in Arizona and New Mexico are attributed to the band commanded by these rascals, and their cap-security to many a community in these territories.

Natchez and his companions are not as brutal and debased companions are not as brital and debased locking as one would expect after learning of their diabolical wickedness and blood curding cruelty. It is difficult to regard the wretches as criminals worthy of death. All are wiry and muscular, with low and laterally compressed forebead, small, keen, jet block eyes hair dark coarse, straight and ally compressed forebead, small, keen, jet black eyes, hair dark, coarse, straight and abundant, and with some fantastically bound in knots or with handkerchiefs tied around their heads; faces smooth and broad, with high cheek bones, small chins and strong

Natchez is the tallest of the lot, and when Natchez is the tallest of the lot, and when "ragged out" for display wears a captain's uniform. He is about 30 years old and a fine looking specimen of Indian manhood. Geronimo wore a straw hat and a mixed apparel of soldier duds. His favorite garb out in his "ain countree" was a shirt and pair of boots. It may have been imagination, but there seemed to be a cruel glitter in his eyes, the lines of his mouth hard and pitiless, his face a perfect picture of stolid indifference and impassiveness. When we offered him a card and pencil and indicated that we wanted him to make "his mark," he stood and stared at us like a statue, and it was only after the in-terpreter informed him that we would pay him that he consented to do so. Natchez wrote his name in a neat hand, without hesitation as also Abnandia, one of the common bucks. Both have learned to write since coming here under the tultion of Mr. George Wratton, the interpreter, who spent many years with them in Arizona, and is perfe versant with their language and habits. He gets $100 a month from the government for staying here. Mangus made his mark, smil-ing the while with

The Indians lodge in casements under the walls of the fort during cold weather, in tents in warm weather. In each of the two rooms bright wood fires blazed on the hearth when we entered. Most of the crowd was lounging on beds rigged up with mosquito bars. Shados of J. Fennimore Cooper and all the dime novelists! Indians smoking cigarettes and sleeping in beds under mosquito bars! How soon these guileless children of the plains fall into the degenerated ways of the whites. Natchez was seated at a table engaged in drawing a picture of a horse in gay colors, and, eager for a sale, offered it unfinished for a balf dollar, with no buyers. With all of their savage propensities they have an itching palm for silver.

Geronimo was pacing around out of doors, exchanged a shale of his diploin warm weather. In each of the two rooms

He is about 30 years of age, and has two wives at Fort Marion. Mr. Wratton writes a good many letters for the chiefs to their wives, and the hope of again seeing them is a strong incentive to decility and obedience. These missives are full of tenderness and love. They dictate the language and Mr. Wratton translates it into English. In one letter Geronimo said. "I am well satisfled here, but would be more so if I had you with me. I work every day except Sunday. It is healthy to work. My work is not hard. It seems to me that the Great Spirit and for seems to instant the Great spirit and God are very closely united. As sure as the trees bud in the spring, so sure is my hope of seeing you. The Indians within the borders of the United States number about $00,000, the government extending subsistence in all or part to 230,000, the remaining 50,000 getting a livelihood by hunting, fishing, begging and stenling. In respect to civilization they are divided about as follows: Civilized, 100,000; somi-civilized, 125,000; barbarous, 75,000. This inter class, over whom the government exercises no control, gives less trouble than the semicivilized.
